IYANA'S FIRST PET

BY CHILDBOOK.AI

Iyana saw a big box with holes on top. "What's inside?" she asked, tilting her head. The box wiggled! She opened the lid slowly. A tiny white puppy popped up and barked. "A puppy!" Iyana squealed with joy. "I'll call you Cocco," she said, hugging him tight. Cocco licked her cheek happily.

Cocco was small, white, and super fluffy. He looked like a little cloud with legs! Iyana giggled as he bounced around her room. "You're so soft," she said, petting his fur. Cocco wagged his tail fast. He sniffed her shoes, her blanket, and her stuffed bear. Everything was new and exciting to him.

Iyana rolled a small ball across the floor. Cocco chased it with quick little paws. "Get it, Cocco!" she cheered. He grabbed the ball and shook his head proudly. They played tug-of-war with a rope toy next. Cocco tugged hard, growling playfully. Iyana laughed until her tummy hurt from giggling so much.

Iyana clipped a leash onto Cocco's collar. "Ready for a walk?" she asked. Cocco wagged his tail and trotted outside. They strolled past flowers and chirping birds. Cocco sniffed every bush along the path. "Good boy," Iyana said, smiling. The sun felt warm, and the breeze smelled like fresh grass and adventure.

On their walk, they found a puddle. Cocco splashed right through it! Water sprayed onto Iyana's shoes. "Cocco!" she laughed, jumping in too. They splashed together, giggling loudly. Cocco shook his wet fur, spraying droplets everywhere. Iyana didn't mind one bit. Walking with Cocco was always a fun surprise.

Iyana poured kibble into Cocco's bowl. "Here's your dinner," she said kindly. Cocco munched happily, his tail wagging fast. Crunch, crunch, crunch went his tiny teeth. She filled his water bowl too. Cocco drank with noisy little slurps. "You were hungry!" Iyana said, laughing at his messy puppy face.

Iyana picked out tiny outfits for Cocco. There was a blue raincoat and a red sweater. "Try this one," she said, slipping it on him. Cocco spun in a circle, showing off. He looked like a tiny superhero! Iyana clapped happily. "You're the cutest puppy ever," she told him proudly.

Cocco wore his new red sweater outside. He trotted proudly down the sidewalk. "Look how fancy you are," Iyana said. People smiled as they passed by. Cocco wagged his tail at everyone. He loved showing off his fluffy new look. Iyana felt so proud walking beside her stylish little puppy.

It was time for a bath! Iyana filled the tub with warm water and bubbles. Cocco hopped in, splashing everywhere. "Hold still," she giggled, scrubbing his fluffy fur. Bubbles covered his nose, making him sneeze. Cocco shook hard, spraying suds on the wall. Bath time was always a silly mess.

After the bath, Cocco looked extra fluffy. Iyana wrapped him in a soft towel. "You're so clean and soft now," she said. Cocco smelled like fresh flowers. He shook himself dry near the window. Iyana combed his fur gently with a small brush. Cocco closed his eyes, enjoying every stroke.

One day, Cocco chewed on Iyana's shoe. "Cocco, no!" she said, surprised. He dropped the shoe and tilted his head. Iyana sighed but couldn't stay mad long. She gave him a chew toy instead. "This one is yours," she said softly. Cocco happily chewed his toy, wagging his tail with relief.

That night, Iyana climbed into bed. Cocco jumped up beside her, snuggling close. "You're the best puppy," she whispered. Cocco rested his head on her arm, sighing contentedly. She stroked his soft, fluffy fur gently. "Goodnight, Cocco," Iyana said with a smile. Together they drifted off into a cozy, happy sleep.
