Aria arrived in Andorra la Vella with a sparkle in her eyes. She had heard stories of the beautiful mountains and forests, but seeing them in person was magical. Her Aunt welcomed her with a warm hug. 'There are special friends I hope you'll meet,' her Aunt whispered, hinting at an adventure to come. Aria's curiosity was piqued.

While exploring the garden, Aria stumbled upon a red and a yellow creature. 'Hello, I'm Dino, and this is Nilo,' the red one said. They were Tamarros! Aria couldn't believe her eyes.

The Tamarros promised to show her the secrets of Andorra's nature.

Dino and Nilo led Aria into the forest. They showed her hidden waterfalls and whispered the names of trees. Aria learned that Tamarros protect nature. She promised to keep their secret and help protect the forest too. It was a promise of friendship and respect.

As the adventure ended, Aria felt a deep connection with Andorra's nature. 'Remember, even the smallest actions can protect our planet,' Dino said. Nilo gifted Aria a small leaf as a symbol of their friendship.

Aria knew this was just the beginning of many adventures with her new friends.
