

JULIETTE THE BRAVE LITTLE TURTLE

by childbook.ai

On a warm, sunny day, on Constitution Beach, a little turtle named Juliette hatched from her egg. She was the smallest of all her brothers and sisters. Juliette peeked out from her shell and saw the big, blue ocean. It looked so exciting and a little bit scary too.

'Come on, Juliette! Let's go to the water!' her brothers and sisters called out.

Juliette took a deep breath and started to crawl toward the ocean. On her way, Juliette met a friendly crab named Leah. 'Hello, little turtle! Where are you going?' Leah asked. 'I'm going to the ocean,' Juliette replied. 'But it's so big, and I'm so small.'

'Don't worry, Juliette,' Leah said with a smile. 'You are braver than you think. Just keep moving forward.' As Juliette crawled, she saw a big shadow above her. It was a seagull! Juliette felt a little scared, but she remembered Leah's words. Juliette quickly hid in her shell.

The seagull flew away, and Juliette felt proud of herself for being so brave. Finally, Juliette reached the edge of the ocean. The waves tickled her tiny flippers, and she giggled. She did it! She made it to the ocean. Juliette swam happily in the water, meeting colorful fish and friendly dolphins.
