

MOMMY LOVES YOU BABY!

by childbook.ai

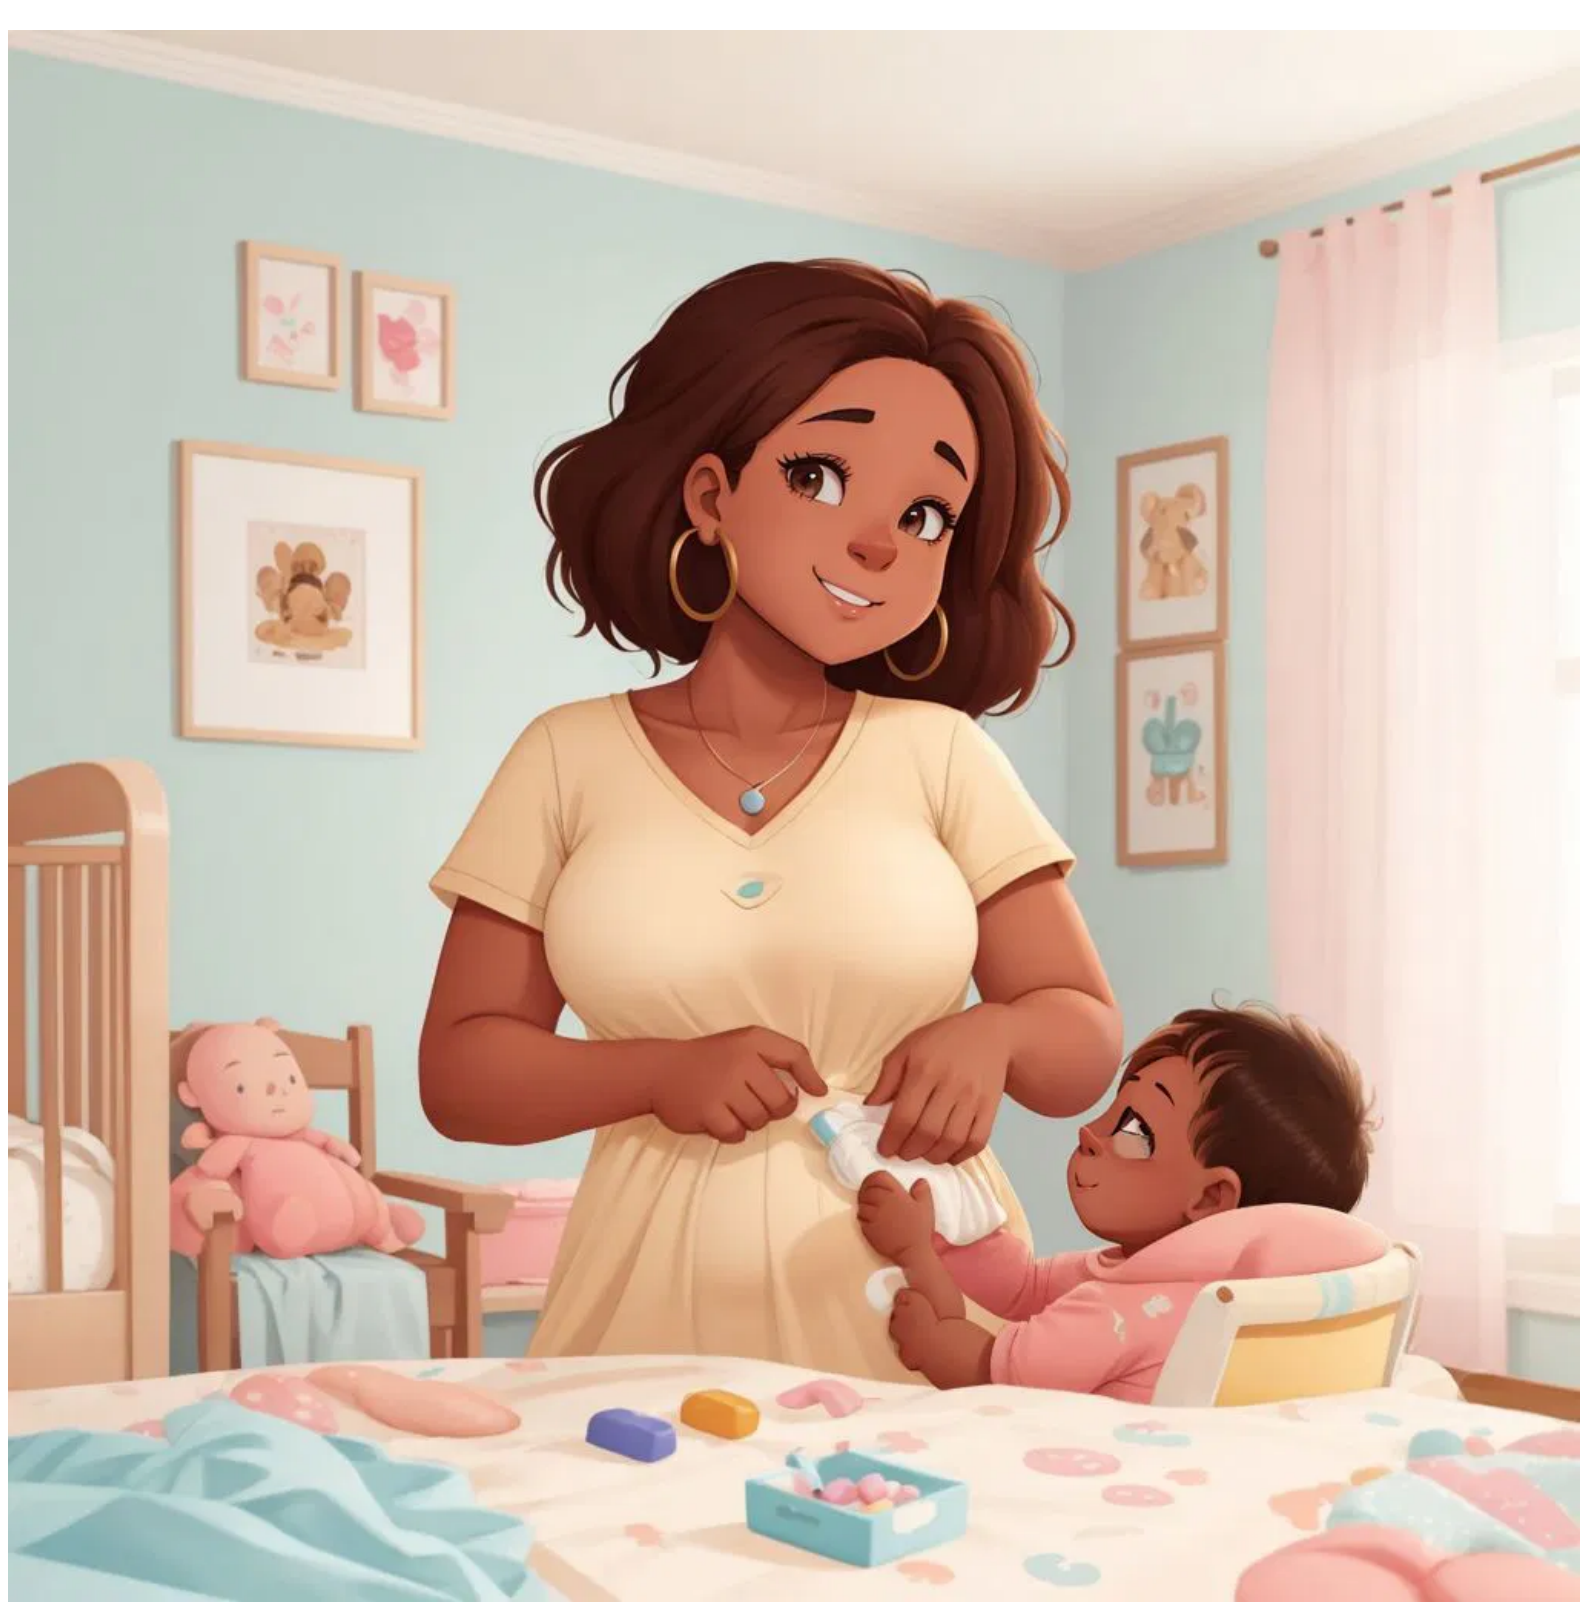

Anastasia Williams had a special secret. She was going to have a baby boy! Every night, she would sit in her cozy chair and talk to her tummy. She told her baby all about the big, beautiful world outside. She couldn't wait to meet him.

Anastasia loved singing lullabies to her baby. She sang sweet songs about stars and moonbeams. The baby would kick gently as if he was dancing. Anastasia laughed and felt a warm, happy feeling inside. They were already best friends.

Anastasia also told her baby stories of great adventures. She spoke of brave knights, magical forests, and talking animals. Her baby seemed to listen closely, always giving a tiny kick at the most exciting parts. Anastasia knew her baby would love stories just as much as she did. She promised to read him many more once he was born.

As the days went by, Anastasia's excitement grew. She decorated the baby's room with love and care. She imagined holding her baby boy and whispering, 'Mommy loves you, baby.' Anastasia knew that every moment spent talking to her baby was a treasure. Soon, they would finally meet, and the adventure would truly begin.
