

EFE'S JOURNEY
by childbook.ai

Efe was a happy baby boy who loved to explore. One day, his parents, Arda and Gözde, brought home a new friend. It was a grey parrot with a red tail named Jack. Efe was excited and clapped his tiny hands. Jack squawked happily, and they became best friends instantly.

Every morning, Efe and Jack played together in the living room. Jack would fly around, and Efe would giggle and try to catch him. They played hide and seek, with Jack hiding behind the curtains. Efe always found him, and they laughed together. Their days were filled with fun and joy.

As Efe grew older, Jack helped him learn new things. Jack would mimic words, and Efe would try to say them too. They learned colors by pointing at different toys. Efe's favorite was the red ball, just like Jack's red tail. Together, they made learning fun and exciting.

Efe and Jack shared a special bond that grew stronger every day. They were always there for each other, whether they were playing or learning. One day, Efe said his first word, and it was 'Jack.' His parents were delighted, and Jack squawked with pride. Efe and Jack knew they would be best friends forever.
