

EMMA AND THE GARDEN OF FRIENDS

by childbook.ai

Emma was sitting under her favorite tree, feeling a little sad. She watched her friends argue over who would get to play with her first. Emma loved her friends, but she didn't like it when they fought. She sighed and wished for a way to make everyone happy.

Just then, she noticed a tiny squirrel watching her from a nearby branch.

The squirrel was Mr. Nutters, the wisest creature in the garden. He scurried over to Emma and sat beside her. 'Why are you so sad, Emma?' he asked kindly. Emma explained about her friends and their arguments. Mr.

Nutters nodded and thought for a moment before giving Emma some advice.

Emma listened carefully to Mr. Nutters' advice. He suggested that Emma could invite all her friends to play together. Emma's face lit up with a big smile. She thought it was a great idea and thanked Mr. Nutters. With excitement, she ran over to her friends to share her plan.

Emma gathered her friends and told them about playing together. Everyone listened and agreed it was a wonderful idea. They all cheered and started playing games as a big happy group. Laughter filled the garden, and Emma felt joy in her heart. Thanks to Mr. Nutters, Emma and her friends had a wonderful time together.
